

The Waiters (The Little Bookshop of Horrors Book 4) By Tony Richards

What is it with the Ivydene Care Home for the Elderly What goes on behind closed doors The staff all look similar and Great Aunt Sarah bedridden and in her nineties keeps on insisting they are waiters and seems scared of them But if that s true who are they waiting on or for The Waiters The Little Bookshop of Horrors Book 4 My latest book from UK publisher Endeavour Media is a bit of a departure for me THE ASTONISHING ADVENTURES OF SHERLOCK HOLMES IN THE TWENTY FIRST CENTURY takes the Great Detective all over the world from the States to Africa to the Far East taking in locations in Europe and the Caribbean along the way How did I come to write these 13 new mysteries It s explained in my blog below. I m a writer mostly of supernatural fiction author of a series of fantasy thriller novels set in the magic filled town of Raine s Landing Massachusetts Currently that series is up to 6 WITCH HUNTER. But I write regular crime fiction too with numerous tales published in AHMM and a second novel featuring my ex FBI agent turned private detective Matt Barrett is now out from Cemetery Dance Publications It s called THE TRIBE The first novel was THE DESERT KEEPS ITS DEAD. I ve seen to publication almost 100 short stories enough to fill 8 collections the latest being THE UNIVERSAL AND OTHER TERRORS Dark Renaissance Press and my work has appeared in Asimov s SF The Magazine of Fantasy and Science Fiction Weird Tales and numerous top anthologies including Year s Best Horror.with a seventh on the way..
